Message: Jackie Sarauer's Ordination

1. Share about a time when you were deeply aware of God's love for you.
2. Read Deuteronomy 6:4-5. The Jewish people recited this passage (at least) twice a day to regularly remember that God loved them. How do you daily focus on recognizing that your relationship with God is your most vital relationship and that He loves you?
3. What other Scriptures help you remember God's deep love for you?
4. In what ways does your love for others overflow from the love God has for you? What does it look like to love others with His love?
5. Share about someone you know who embodies a deep love for God and for others.
6. Read Romans 12:2 and Luke 10:27. In what practical ways can we work on renewing or changing our minds to align ourselves with God and His love this week?
7. What is the difference between growing in knowledge and growing in wisdom?
8. In an age of instant information, what practical steps can we take to seek wisdom from godly mentors and pastors instead of just "Googling" our spiritual questions or life problems?
9. Loving God with our strength is sometimes displayed by going into hard conversations instead of running away. Why is avoidance often our first instinct, and how can we find the perseverance to engage in difficult situations for the sake of the kingdom?
10. How do these different aspects of loving God—with heart, soul, mind, and strength—prepare and affirm all believers for their specific calling to serve the Church and its people?
